Part II: The Sacraments — The Sacrament of Holy Orders (cont'd.)

Reader - The second degree of orders is the office of reader, whose duty it is to read in the church in a clear and distinct voice the books of the Old and of the New Testament, and especially those which are read during the nocturnal psalmody. Formerly it was also his duty to teach the faithful the first rudiments of the Christian religion. Hence it is that when ordaining him, the Bishop, in the presence of the people, handing him a book in which are set down all that regards this office, says: Take, and be you an announcer of the word of God; if you faithfully and profitably discharge your office, you shall have a part with those who from the beginning have well ministered the word of God.

Exorcist - The third order is that of exorcists, to whom is given the power to invoke the name of the Lord over those who are possessed by unclean spirits. Hence the Bishop when ordaining them presents to them a book in which the exorcisms are contained, and at the same time pronounces this form of words: Take, and commit to memory, and have the power of imposing hands over the possessed, whether baptized or catechumen.

Acolyte - The fourth degree is that of acolytes, and it is the last of the orders that are called minor and not sacred. Their duty is to attend and serve the ministers who are in major orders, that is, the deacon and subdeacon, in the Sacrifice of the altar. They also carry and attend to the lights during the celebration of the Sacrifice of the Mass, and especially during the reading of the Gospel, from which fact they are also called candle-bearers. Therefore at the ordination of acolytes the Bishop observes the following rite: First of all he carefully warns them of the nature of their office; then hands to each of them a light, saying: Receive this candlestick and candle, and remember that henceforth you are given the charge of lighting the candles of the church, in the name of the Lord. Then he hands them empty cruets in which are presented the wine and water for the Sacrifice, saying: Receive these cruets to supply wine and water for the Eucharist of Christ's blood, in the name of the Lord.

The Major Orders

Subdeacon - From the minor orders, which are not sacred, and of which we have been speaking until now, one lawfully enters and ascends to major and Sacred Orders. Now the subdiaconate is the first degree of (major orders). Its function, as the name itself indicates, is to serve the deacon at the altar. It is the subdeacon who should prepare the altar linen, the vessels and the bread and wine necessary for the celebration of the Holy Sacrifice. He also it is who presents water to the Bishop or priest when he washes his hands during the Sacrifice of the Mass. It is also the subdeacon who now reads the Epistle which in former times was read at Mass by the deacon. He assists as witness at the Holy Sacrifice, and guards the celebrant from being disturbed by anyone during the sacred ceremonies. The various duties that pertain to the subdeacon are indicated by the solemn ceremonies used at his ordination. In the first place the Bishop warns him that the obligation of perpetual continence is attached to this order, and declares that no one is to be admitted among the subdeacons who is not ready and willing to accept the obligation in question. Then, after the solemn recitation of the Litanies, the Bishop enumerates and explains the duties and functions of the subdeacon. Thereupon each one of those who are being ordained receives the chalice and sacred paten from the Bishop; and, to show that he is to serve the deacon, the subdeacon receives from the archdeacon cruets filled with wine and water, together with a basin and towel with which to wash and dry the hands. At the same time the Bishop pronounces these words: See what sort of ministry is entrusted to you; I admonish you therefore, to show yourself worthy to please God. Other prayers follow, and finally, when the Bishop has clothed the subdeacon with the sacred vestments, for each of which there are special words and ceremonies, he gives him the book of the Epistles, saying: Receive the book of the Epistles with power to read them in the Holy Church of God, as well for the living as for the dead.

Announcements

A big thank you to all who helped take down our Christmas decorations last Sunday. Thanks to so many helpers, we were able to get things done quickly.

Next Sunday is the beginning of Septuagesima, the pre-Lenten season. Now is a good time to start thinking about and preparing for your Lenten reading, penances, and works of mercy. Our little bookstore and lending library can help. Remember to read only approved Catholic literature.

Please start bringing in your palm branches from last year and give them to Father. They are burned to make ashes for Ash Wednesday. Lent begins on Mar. 6 this year, with Ash Wednesday Low Mass at 9:00 am at St. Therese's, with blessing and imposition of ashes.

On Saturday, Mar. 16, we will have our annual St. Patrick's Day parish dinner, which includes a talent show, from 5:00 pm to 8:00 pm. We are renting the hall at Bethany United Church of Christ, 1026 S. State Route 123, in Lebanon, OH 45036. All parishioners and visitors are invited to attend.

The Sacrament of Confirmation will be administered by Bp. Mark Pivarunas on Sunday, Apr. 7. This sacrament is very important and should be received by all Catholics, beginning with children from sixth grade on. Adults who were confirmed in the Novus Ordo rite (1971 or later) or in the Catholic rite but by a bishop consecrated in the Novus Ordo rite (1968 or later), will need to receive confirmation again. A sign-up sheet has been posted in the vestibule for confirmation classes, to be arranged by Fr. Trough. If you are not sure if you need to be confirmed, please speak with Father.
